

English Thursday

Story Openings:

The setting

Where is the story set?

What does it look like?

what is happening there?

If I were standing there what would I see? Hear? Touch? Smell?

Dialogue

Could you start with a character speaking? To the reader or another character?

Could you tell us about your characters, their names, what they look like or what they like or feel?

Characters

An Action

Could you start with a really interesting action that will tell us about something that may happen?
